Venus and Mars 2015

This Lunar cycle:

Oct 13 2015: New Moon -- 19 Libra

- evaluate relationships, partnerships, material security or values through a realistic, and discerning lens

Oct 27 2015: Full Moon – 4 Taurus (The Pot of Gold...)

- reconnect with what's most important & take a steady approach to build resources

Sun – 4 Scorpio (A youth carries a lighted candle) ruler Mars

- share our emotions, physical body, and material resources with another
- eliminate anything that's stopping us from evolving

10/27/15 -- 5:05 am -- Studio City

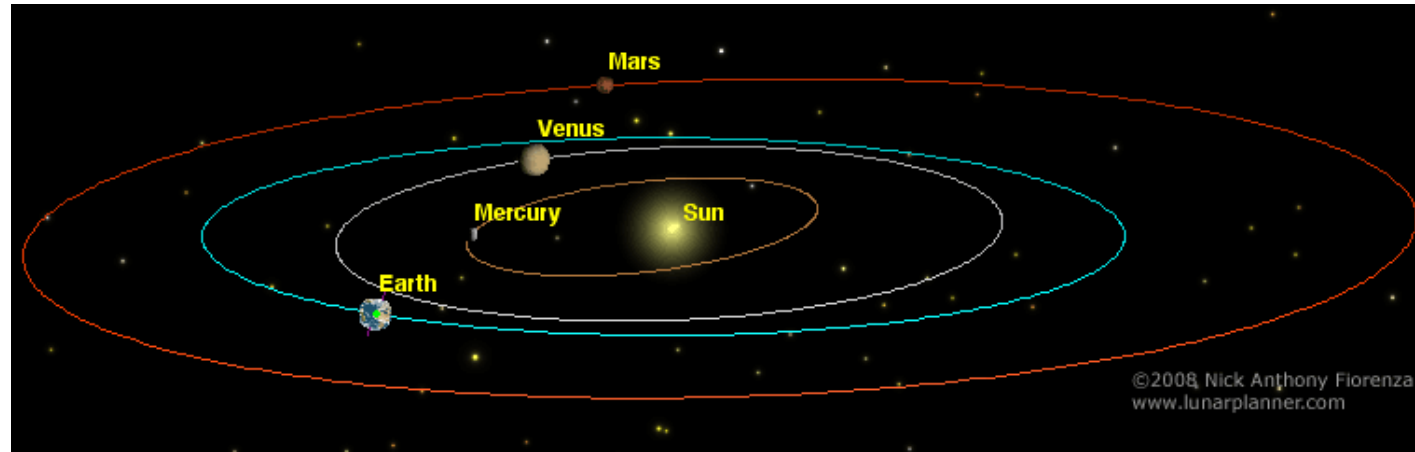

Full & New Moon ruler, Venus – conjunct Jupiter & Mars (20 Virgo -- Sep 13 eclipse point triggered)

Venus Mars Cycles

Dane Rudhyar and Alexander Ruperti research:

- Venus and Mars form conjunctions about every two years
- Venus retrograde nearly every 5th conjunction
- Venus (R) and Mars (D) conjunction about every 77 months
- Conjunctions in the same sign every 32 years (within 7-8 degrees of the last conjunction)

Typical advice:

- Determine what we want (Venus) and get it (Mars)
- Initiate any changes needed in our relationships
- (Virgo) Improve our relationships
- This transit will be in effect until November 12th, when Mars enters Libra.
- The house & planets near 24 Virgo give the themes and areas of experience

“a significant turning point in one’s emotional life and provides an opportunity to change one’s values and to find a deeper spiritual significance to one’s individual actions”-- Ruperti

- Aberration in the Venus-Mars transit cycle -- after 1960
- Retrograde Venus conjunction no longer recurs exactly every 77 months
- Returns to "normal" 2060 when every 5th conjunction will regularly recur with a retrograde Venus
- That predictable pattern continues until 2258

Venus–Mars aspects

- personal relationships
- circumstances where we have differences in terms of our value judgements and desires
- archetypes fuel our creativity and self-expression
- tense aspects can be highly creative or destructive
- hard aspects can generate energy and passion
